SECRETARY'S NOTES

Summer 2026

Thank you to everyone who attended the AGM which took place on 24 March at the Holbrook Club. The Committee was delighted to see so many members in attendance and a brief summary of the event follows:

At the request of members at last year's AGM, documents relating to this AGM were made available to members before the event via the website. Members were invited to pose questions in advance regarding the Treasurer's Statement and Independently Examined Accounts.

The minutes of last year's AGM were approved, as were the Chair's Annual Report, the Annual Report of the Trustees and the Treasurer's Report.

The Chair advised that a new Independent Examiner, Claire Faruque, will examine the accounts for 2026/27 and this was met with approval from the members. An amendment to the constitution, which had been mentioned in the Spring Newsletter and was available to view online, was approved by the Members. The current list of Committee Members was voted in en-bloc to serve for a further year.

The Chair thanked all those who gave their time to support the work of the u3a, in particular members of the Committee and members of the Really Useful Group (RUGs).

Esme Cloherty was then presented with an 'Outstanding Contribution' certificate in recognition of her long service to Horsham u3a.

A full report of the AGM can be found on the website. If you would like to consider becoming a Committee Member we would love to hear from you. Contact either the Chair or the Secretary (contact details on the back page).

Kind regards Vivien

We Love Paperbacks - TEMPORARY HOMES NEEDED

You don't own a paperback; you have it for a little while and then it moves on with its life. The best you can do is help it find a new good home. No book should be read just once or have a single owner.

Pam and Simon, who run our book stall, would be pleased to receive any paperbacks which you no longer need.

Bring them along to the general meetings, but please, please, NO hardbacks. Thank you.

u3a MATTERS MAGAZINE

You may have opted to receive this magazine by post when you joined or renewed your membership of Horsham u3a. However, you may be interested to know that you can now access a shortened version of the magazine online, link: <https://www.u3a.org.uk/news/u3a-matters>.

The magazine is issued five times a year; in February, April, June, September and November and the link will point to the latest issue as soon as it is available. It's easy to read; you can expand it to 'full-screen' and use the slide bar at the bottom to zoom in and out. So if you would like to save some trees and opt out of receiving the full paper version by post in future, please contact Jenny, email: membership@horshamu3a.org.uk.

PROPOSED NEW GROUP

COULD WE FIND ANOTHER LEADER FOR A NEW ART GROUP?

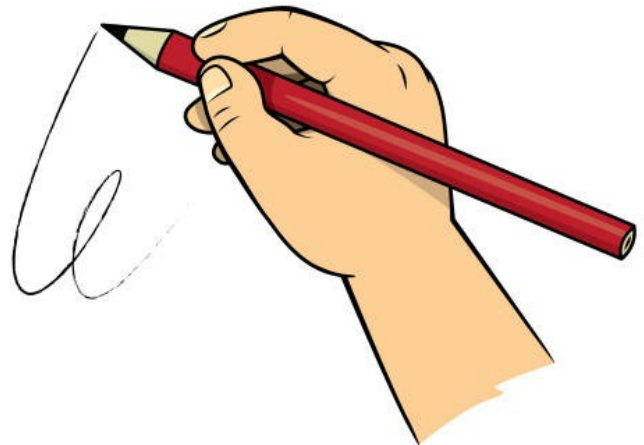

The current Art Group is very full and there is still a considerable waiting list. The most recent person to join the group had to wait 11 months, which is far too long. At each session, people bring whatever they want to draw or paint. Many in the group are accomplished artists and others may be less experienced, but all are welcomed. The group is very relaxed and capable with no tutoring, but general advice or guidance is given when needed. Art can be a very therapeutic, sociable and enjoyable monthly event.

Would anyone be interested in starting up and leading a new art group? If so, please reply to:

Pam at: groups@horshamu3a.org.

I believe there would be sufficient interest to warrant another group, clear the waiting list, and may be some of the existing group might like to also attend a new group and be able to paint twice a month. An additional local venue would need to be found with a small charge per session to cover the hire of a room.

Heather, u3a Painting Group

UKULELE GROUP ukulele@horshamu3a.org.uk

We are a friendly group of members who meet twice a month and sing along together with songs from our song book. All very relaxing and good fun.

Although we are not a teaching group, we are helpful and new members can choose a song and join in with the group as they progress through the chords.

ALSO anyone who just wants to sing along without the uke would be welcome to join in with the songs from our song book.

We have played a few times at care homes which also is enjoyable.

Regards Rita

Going Places 6 – Arundel

Leader: Veronica Cackett

Email: gp6@horshamu3a.org.uk

By Julie

Our March visit was to Arundel town centre, led by our excellent local guide Martin.

Dominated by the Castle, the town of Arundel is on a fairly steep hill with a lot of small interesting shops. Arundel Castle is a restored and remodelled medieval castle established by Roger de Montgomery in the 11th century. Damaged in the English Civil War, it was restored in the 18th and early 19th centuries by the 11th Duke of Norfolk.

Martin explained that the original entrance to the castle was by what is now Mill Lane. To make it easier for delivery of materials for the rebuilding, a new road was constructed taking the town traffic away from the castle grounds, and the entrance moved to its current location in Mill Road, which leads to the Black Rabbit. Martin pointed out many interesting features in the buildings in the High Street, one of the memorable ones being a doorway several feet below the pavement accessed by some very narrow steep steps which many years ago was the entrance to the local prison.

His knowledge was excellent and his book full of old pictures of Arundel was a great addition to his talk.

Thanks to Liz for the picture.

'IT COSTS TO WASTE'

Going Places 6 – East Grinstead

Leader: Veronica

Email: gp6@horshamu3a.org.uk

By Julie

Our April visit was to East Grinstead and Sackville College

We were greeted in the residents' common room by the volunteer guides, who kindly served us with tea, coffee and biscuits. They then split us into small groups to view the various sides of the quadrangle. The building is of mellow Sussex sandstone, with a Horsham Stone roof. Sackville College is a Jacobean almshouse founded in 1609 with money left by Richard Sackville 2nd Earl of Dorset. It never was a college as we know it, as in the 1600s the word meant "a place to be looked after." It also served as overnight accommodation for the Sackville family as they journeyed between their Sussex homes. It has provided sheltered accommodation for local elderly people throughout its history. It was free to residents until state pensions were introduced in 1948.

The early accommodation was a single room, with communal facilities for dining and recreation, but in recent times two rooms were joined together to make individual flats, of which there are 14, with modern facilities and a common room for all residents. The flats are arranged around a quadrangle, which contains the original well (now housed appropriately), with a bucket visible which would have supplied each resident with one bucket of water every day for all their needs! Among the wardens listed in the original entrance was Revd. Dr. John Mason Neale, warden from 1846 to 1866 who wrote many well-known hymns and carols, including Good King Wenceslas. The current warden is the first female to hold the post.

Gardens Group 1 – Leader Gill

Email: gardens1@horshamu3a.org.uk

The group visited West Dean Gardens and during our stroll around the gardens came upon these the below chickens amongst other things. It was a lovely day and a good number of members arrived for coffee. The gardens are just coming to life after a very wet winter.

Photos were taken by Graham.

“Running Fawltly Towers”

Talk by Susan Howe, 24 March 2026. Review by Marlene

After our AGM in March 2026, we welcomed Susan Howe, our speaker for the day, who shared fascinating snippets from various stages in her life. As background, she told us that she is a London Blue Badge guide, which enables her to carry out this role throughout the breadth of the UK.

The core part of her talk covered three of her career stages – her experiences as a cook on a luxury yacht, her time at Westminster Abbey and the third stage, running a hotel.

It started in the 1960s when she answered an advertisement for a job on a luxury yacht as a cook (despite having no previous experience). In the interview, she was given to understand that the captain’s girlfriend would provide any necessary help. Sadly, she found this was not the case and that she was not only there for the VIP guests, but also for the 17 crew (who did not think that quiche was appropriate fare for seamen).

Anecdotes for this stage included the following: the time when the yacht’s freezers broke down and Susan was rowed into Dubrovnik at night to get fresh supplies, and the fact that Guenther Sachs (ex-husband of Brigitte Bardot) suffered from seasickness and used his private jet to fly to Malta etc., leaving the yacht to follow without him. He offered her a job in St. Moritz for the winter, which she was happy to accept because she thought there would be a lot of skiing opportunities.

Unfortunately, there was an extensive staff, including an English butler, who expected lunch at midday. By adjusting the clocks, she was able to serve lunch at 10.30; earlier than they realised, and go off to ski afterwards.

As a contrast, the next stage was Westminster Abbey, where she met her husband, who was the catering manager there. One highlight she mentioned was when the Royal Family and the Mountbattens came for a memorial service to lay a stone for Lord and Lady Mountbatten. Tea was served, but Princess Diana wanted brandy. Susan’s husband went to get some, leaving Susan to serve the royal guests.

The third stage mentioned was taking on a run-down hotel with a dovecote in the winter of 1986. The dovecote triggered another little story – that doves from this very dovecote were sent to the Dame of Sark in the aftermath of the occupation of the Channel Islands, because the Germans had eaten all the local doves there.

This hotel is what led Susan to call her talk “Running Fawltly Towers” as so many experiences were comparably zany. Reminiscences included the tale of the escaped convict (who had stolen a suit and a car from a golf club in Cirencester) ordering drinks for everybody around and then absconding owing a lot of money. Another story featured a guest requesting an engagement ring be wrapped in foil and put into the pudding of his intended (who incidentally had been asked six times previously without success!). The other diners were a military contingent, possibly why the lady said “yes”. They subsequently spent their wedding night in this hotel, eventful because a deluge of water from the shower in the room above came through the light fittings. They tried to catch the water in a teapot which was the only receptacle they could find in the room. After all that, they asked if they could return to the hotel for their first wedding anniversary!

In the course of her various roles, she met several well-known people. She mentioned among others: David Suchet (who stayed in his room for three weeks, never stepping out of his Poirot character) and Paddy Ashdown (who came to the hotel after his scandal) and in Switzerland, Guenther Sach’s many guests included Roman Polanski and Jackie Stewart.

The Horsham u3a audience thoroughly enjoyed Susan Howe’s talk and we thank her for coming along to share her memories with us.
